Your people. Your business.

A stronger benefits conversation.

Blue Skies Insurance Solutions is an independent broker helping companies explore employer benefits solutions. Start with a review of your workforce, existing coverage, costs, and administrative needs.

Keep what works. Explore what could add value.

Review group health, dental, vision, and supplemental benefits together. Supplemental benefits can complement existing coverage; they do not replace comprehensive medical insurance. A conversation can begin during the year, subject to solution-specific eligibility and implementation requirements.

What should an employer review cover?

Benefits and eligibility: covered events, limitations, exclusions, participation requirements, and the current written terms.

Costs and payroll: premiums, fees, deductions, potential payroll effects, and assumptions. No savings or tax result is promised.

Administration: enrollment, payroll setup, reconciliation, claims support, and ongoing responsibilities.

Professional coordination: involve your current benefits broker, HR and finance teams, and qualified tax and legal advisers.

We welcome companies nationwide, with no upper employer-size limit. Our business target is at least 50 enrolled employees per company. That target is distinct from total headcount and contractual eligibility. Availability depends on applicable licensing, appointments, and current written requirements.

Share business-level summaries only: work states, approximate workforce, current benefits, and your goals. Do not send employee medical records or confidential payroll files in an initial inquiry. A review does not create coverage or an obligation to enroll. No legal or tax advice is provided. Benefits, costs, and results vary. November 2026.
